Name:	Eildon, Victoria (Postcode: 3713)
Area:	Central Victoria
Elevation:	232 m
Distance:	141 km from Melbourne
Established:	Circa 1890

Eildon is a small sized town located at the start of the Goulburn Valley Highway, in Central Victoria.

The area was first settled by Dr James Dickson in 1838 who ran a large sheep run. A Post Office operated for a short time from 1890. The township was firmly established when the area was selected for the Sugarloaf Weir dam wall. A post office was opened again in 1915 and a school was established soon after.

Today Eildon is perfectly placed to meet the needs of those enjoying Lake Eildon National Park, other natural and man-made local features, as well as fishing and boating.
