MURRINDINDI

CASCADES

CONTRIBUTORS

Department of Environment, Lands, Water & Planning

Allan Layton
Kathie Maynes
Bob Reed
David & Debbie Hibbert

HISTORIC FACTSHEET

INTRODUCTION

Name: Murrindindi Cascades

Location: Murrindindi Scenic Reserve

Type: Large cascade Height: Unknown

GPS: S37.459570, E145.571848

Managed By: DELWP

The Murrindindi Cascades are a large cascade style waterfall where tumbles over large granite boulders in a very picturesque bush setting. It is located in the Murrindindi Scenic Reserve.

Murrindindi Scenic Reserve is a large area of pristine Australian bushland located at the northern end of the Toolangi State Forest. It is a short drive from Yea or Melbourne, making it a great day trip destination or camping spot.

The Murrindindi Cascades (formerly known as Murrindindi Rapids) is located at the south end of the Reserve and includes a carpark, Day Visitor Area and toilets. A walking track leads you down beside the Cascades to the bottom viewing platforms/bridges. This is a very photographic area and is even better after a heavy rain. After the 2009 Black Saturday Bushfires the Cascades could be seen from the roadway (above), though regrowth is now obstructing this view.

TIMELINE

Circa 1840s - 1850s Murrindindi Rapids were first discovered.

Unknown The Murrindindi Rapids were renamed to the Murrindindi

Cascades.

2009 The Murrindindi Scenic Reserve was devastated by the Black

Saturday Bushfires.

The Murrindindi Cascades were re-opened to the public after major restoration works was completed after the Black Saturday

Bushfires.

August 2013 Artworkz commenced work on this Factsheet.

HISTORIC FACTSHEET

MAP

eSPLASH MEDIA ARTICLES

ARTICLES FROM THE ESPLASH EMAGAZINE

MURRINDINDI SCENIC RESERVE

Located in the Murrindindi Scenic Reserve, this large Cascade is easily accessible thanks to well placed steps and bridges. A quality carpark area and picnic tables establish this as one of our best district Cascades.

The walking track down from the Carpark

The walking track down from the Carpark

The Stairs near the bottom of the Cascades walking track

The Stairs and bridge near the bottom of the Cascades track

A small section of the Cascades

A view from the bottom of the Casdaces

A view from the bottom of the Casdaces

A rock worn & cracked by nature. One section looks a little like Australia

A small section of the Cascades

The turbulent water makes interesting shapes and patterns

- ARTWORKZ REPORTER SERIES -

MURRINDINDI SCENIC RESERVE

MURRINDINDI - JULY 2016 - PUBLISHED 16 SEPTEMBER (ESPLASH158)

An excellent reserve with quality facilities for the day visitor or the camper. Of special note are the beautiful features which abound throughout the reserve, many of which are photographic.

MURRINDINDI SCENIC RESERVE

Murrindindi Cascades and a friendly leech

MURRINDINDI SCENIC RESERVE -

Three fungi found on one log beside the track to the cascades

ARTWORKZ REPORTER SERIES

MURRINDINDI CASCADES

MURRINDINDI SCENIC RESERVE - 2022

A local drive to enjoy nature and running water

Recently we visited the Murrindindi Scenic Reserve to take in the Murrindindi Cascades and enjoy the soothing power of running water. As has been the case each visit, we found plenty to enjoy and photograph.

Murrindindi River view

Murrindindi Scenic Reserve is a large area of pristine Australian bushland located at the northern end of the Toolangi State Forest. It is a short drive from Yea or Melbourne, making it a great day trip destination or camping spot.

The Murrindindi Cascades (formerly known as Murrindindi Rapids) is located at the south end of the Reserve and includes a carpark, Day Visitor Area and toilets. A walking track leads you down beside the Cascades to the bottom viewing platforms/bridges. This is a very photographic area and is even better after a heavy rain. After the 2009

Black Saturday Bushfires the Cascades could be seen from the roadway above, though regrowth is now obstructing this view.

Murrindindi River view

(Top) Jack jumper ant on the bridge railing. (Bottom) Bassian thrush.

Using the iPhone to produce long exposures was fun as was playing with black & white

Murrindindi River view

